Etele Szüts

head of Digital Archive Development Department, Forum Hungaricum Non-profit Ltd, Budapest

I obtained my degree 'IT Engineer' and 'Master of Library and Information Scientist' at the University of Pécs. I worked for the South Transdanubian Regional Library and Knowledge Centre for three years as an information scientist librarian and media librarian. I worked for the Research and Development Department of the Hungarian National Digital Archive and Film Institute, first as a database archivist and later I was appointed to the Head of Department post.

Presently, I am the Head of the Digital Archive Development Department at Forum Hungaricum Non-profit Ltd. Forum Hungaricum is the largest aggregator of Hungary. My PhD in Library and Information Science is in process on the Library Science Program of Eötvös Lóránd University. My research field is the problems of digitisation of our cultural heritage, its critical analysis, and research of its side effects.
